Let's Start!

I'll treat you like a queen!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What do you do when you "treat someone like a king or queen"?

Can Do Statements

- I can make promises.
- I can talk about possible actions and events in the future.
- I can talk about how frequently I do something.

Let's Explore!

Marco calls Vanessa. What promises does he make?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Marco: Hello?
- Vanessa: Hi, Marco.
- Marco: Vanessa! I'm so happy to hear from you! I thought about how I can make it up to you after the terrible date we had the other night.
- Vanessa: Oh, yeah?
- Marco: I promise to treat you like a queen. I'll never raise my voice to you. I'll always think before I say something. I'll make dinner for you once a week!
- Vanessa: Oh, Marco ... you don't have to do that. Just promise me that you'll be open and honest with me ... it's the only way to move forward.
- Marco: You're right.
- Vanessa: Are you still going hiking this weekend?
- Marco: Well, I may go if you're coming with me. I really want to show you a good time.
- Vanessa: I might come ...
- Marco: Yesss! Thank you, Vanessa! I'll text you the details later tonight, after work.
- Vanessa: Sounds good. Bye.
- Marco: Bye!

Let's Practice!

Learning Points

Adverbs of Frequency

You use adverbs of frequency to talk about how often you do something.

You can use them to talk about daily routines or when you make promises to people.

Here is the order of the adverbs in terms of frequency:

Adverb	Frequency
Always	100%
Usually	60-80%
Sometimes	50%
Rarely	10%
Never	0%

Examples:

- I always eat breakfast in the morning.
- He never acts like that in public.
